SPEAKERS:

Maria van Vulpen

Maria is married. She holds a degree in Communication as well as a Master's in Philosophy, with a thesis on masculinity and femininity. She founded the Woman: Heart and Reason workshops to help women navigate life's challenges with confidence and purpose. She is passionate about guiding young women as they discover their calling, dream big, and develop the skills they need to communicate effectively, navigate modern dating, and build fulfilling relationships and deep, meaningful friendships—all in the light of a supernatural vision and their vocation.

Chiara Degenfeld

Chiara has a heart for women, and wishes for every woman to flourish in her way, in her state of life, whether this is as a single, married, working, not working, healthy or sick woman... We may all flourish! She has a background in psychology, education and theology of the body, and will take you deeper into these topics and how you can apply them in your daily life to flourish!
